

Homecoming Plans Roll; Queen Primary Thursday

Planning committees continue to work as Wartburg's 1959 Homecoming date draws nearer.

Primary for the election of the Homecoming queen will be held at convo next Thursday. Final vote will be taken the next Tuesday, Oct. 7.

All senior girls are eligible to wear the crown. The queen's four royal court members must also be seniors.

"Shangrila" will be the theme for the Homecoming Ball to be held Saturday night, according to dance co-chairmen Cal Kozlowski and LeRoy Boseneiler. Keith Killinger and his 10-piece orchestra from Des Moines will provide the music. Ticket price will be three dollars per couple.

Priebe Preaches

Conducting the two church services on Sunday will be the Rev. Kenneth Priebe, Wartburg alumnus. Dr. Priebe served as president of the International Luther League of the American Lutheran Church in 1946-51. During this time he attended the Lutheran World Convention in Lund, Sweden, and the Second World Conference for Christian Youth in Oslo, Norway.

During 1953-56 Dr. Priebe served the congregation of Salem Lutheran Church in Dayton, Ohio. In 1956 he was elected to the position of assistant to the president of the Ohio District. Then in June of 1957 he was elected president of that district and has served in that capacity ever since. The Ohio District includes 220 congregations located in Ohio, Indiana, Kentucky, Tennessee and Alabama.

Home Is Columbus

Pastor Priebe resides in Columbus, Ohio, with his wife and two children.

Seniors Dorothy Miller and Jim Eissinger, co-chairmen of the campus decorations committee, urge all housing units, both those on campus and those off campus, to participate in the decoration contest. A prize will be awarded to the housing unit which has the best Homecoming decorations. Judging for this contest will be done by two faculty members.

Beards Bristle

Paul Schaedig, chairman of the special contests committee, reports that the following divisions have been set up for the beard-growing contest: best over-all beard, second best over-all beard, best goatee, best mustache, beard with most originality and worst over-all beard.

Two new contests have been added this year, according to Schaedig. A prize will be awarded to the person who can come up with the best new cheer to be used for the Homecoming game on Saturday. In the other contest, participants will act as prophets to predict the half-time score, the final score and the Wartburg player to make the last touchdown of the game.

HEEDING THE CALL,

Dallas Johnson Answers Telephone And Journeys To Greece For ALC

By Grace Jahn

A long distance phone call in the spring of 1957 started Dallas Johnson, Wartburg sophomore, on a two-year journey of service.

That phone call asked Dallas to be the American Lutheran Church nominee to the Lutheran World Federation for a spot on the 12-member economic rehabilitation team working in Greece.

"It seemed like a tremendous opportunity, not only to serve, but to have the experience of travel," commented Dallas.

Twelve Go

Destination for the 12 members making up the team sponsored by the Inter-church Aid Division of the World Council of Churches, was Ioannina, Greece, team headquarters.

The team, made up of various denominations, from Welsh Baptists to members of the Church of the Brethren, aided the Greek government, which does not have sufficient funds to reach the war-torn villages in northern Greece. Their work was in community development with primary emphasis on agriculture.

The group also gave aid to schools and churches, worked in youth clubs and helped Greek refugees returned from exile in Albania, where they had been taken as prisoners during the Communist Civil War.

Originating in 1951 under Dr. M. R. Zigler, Overseas Director of the Church of the Brethren, the Greek team is the only venture of its kind concerned with economic rehabilitation which is both ecumenical and international.

Goes To Village

"My first seven months in Greece were spent in a village near the Albanian border," Dallas explained.

Working with a Greek interpreter and a Greek agriculturalist, Dallas set up demonstration plots of crops. Some of the other members of the team taught canning and preserving methods to the villagers.

"We were a link to better economic practices," he said.

A Greek Orthodox seminary at Kalamata, a town in southern Greece, provided the second part of Dallas' stay there.

While at the seminary, he instructed training priests in the operation of farm machinery given to the seminary by the Christian Rural Overseas Program. Greek seminaries teach agriculture to village priests, who use it in addition to their theological studies.

Goes Greek
"It was here I came closest to the Greek people. I had no interpreter, and I roomed with a Greek seminarian," said Dallas.

The last part of his stay in Greece was working with an organization called Heifer Project, Incorporated, sponsored by the Inter-faith American Organization. This organization sends donated livestock to backward and underdeveloped countries all over the world.

After the livestock had been distributed to Greek

Flop Pops Cause Questions

Jousting, Anyone?

GETTING THE Ax from Luther College prezzy, Curt Rotto, is Wartburg Student Body President Norm Litzner. The Battle-ax, traveling trophy between the two schools, was presented to Litzner during halftime of the Wartburg-Luther game last Saturday.

Senators Solicit Student Answers

By Darlene Nimitz

Mr. Average Student: "So the Pops have been flops! Well, what of it?"

Yes, what of it? This is the question of the week according to Norm Litzner, Student Body President. During the past four years in which Wartburg College has sponsored a pops concert, the proceeds from this concert have progressively decreased. In fact, last year this undertaking fell seriously short of expectations.

Who Knows?

What seems to be the problem? Don't the Wartburg students want a pops concert, or is perhaps the entertainment and performance date unwisely chosen?

If students have any suggestions as to how the Pops Concert could be improved, they are urged to contact their Student Body senators. Unless some new plans can be arranged, Wartburg will not have a pops concert this year.

Tickets Next Wk.

Student and staff reservations for the Oct. 11 Luboshutz-Nemenoff Artist Series may be obtained next Thursday and Friday, according to Dr. A. W. Swensen of the Series Committee.

Reservations will be available upon presentation of the activity ticket at the treasurer's office between 8 a.m. and 12 noon and 1 to 5 p.m.

Four Represent Wartburg Staff At Conference

Four representatives of Wartburg will be among other administrators from Iowa colleges and universities gathering Sept. 28 and 29 for the annual meeting of the Iowa College Presidents Association. Crescent Beach Lodge, Lake Okoboji, will be the place.

Those attending from Wartburg will be Pres. C. H. Becker; Dr. John Chellevold, dean of faculty; Fred Thompson, admissions director; and Norman Fintel, public relations director.

To Discuss Testing

Included in the two-day agenda will be a discussion of a statewide testing program for college admission and the presentation of the college scholarship service program.

Thompson will serve on a panel discussion concerning the appraisal of the admissions program and procedure as related to high school needs.

Chellevold Rules

Dean Chellevold, chairman of the deans of Iowa colleges, will preside over the deans' meeting. Dr. Becker will attend the meeting of the state study committee of higher education, of which he is a member.

The Wartburg group plans to return to the campus late Tuesday afternoon.

Wright At Art Meet

Miss Helen Wright, Art Department, will attend a College Art Association meeting in Madison, Wis., Oct. 8, 9 and 10.

Discussions will be held on problems of art in a small college, crafts, teacher education and new methods of teaching sculpturing.

Future Grads Choose Heads

First meeting of the senior class 1959-60 was held on Wednesday night with Gary Hummel, president, in charge.

Officers elected are as follows: Norm Remmers, vice president; Mary Ellen Wilke, secretary; and Marilyn Brudi, treasurer. Wanda Karsten and Paul Schmidt were appointed as the Commencement Committee.

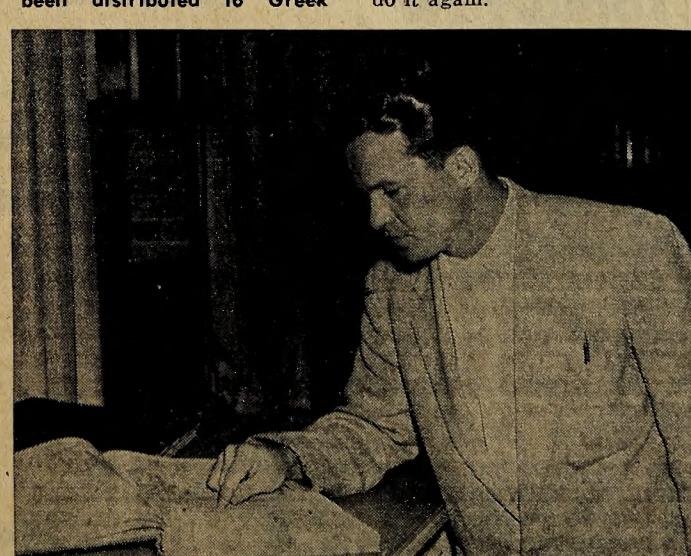

The class decided to have a class project.

Spring commencement speaker will be voted upon in the near future. Those under consideration are Gov. Nelson Rockefeller, Sen. John Kennedy, Representative Judd and Dr. Homer Larson.

Teachers Attend Education Meet

Miss Stella M. Austerud, Education Department, and Mrs. Margaret Garland, English Department, are attending the Elementary Education Conference today at Iowa State Teachers College, Cedar Falls.

Sydney Harris, syndicated columnist for the Chicago Daily News, is chief speaker. His morning topic is "The Future of the Arts in America." In the afternoon his topic will be "What Is School For?"

DALLAS JOHNSON reopens the door to his college career as he returns to Wartburg after two years in Greece.

Open The Door Students Are Knocking

Back in 1955, Wartburg College Pres. C. H. Becker brought up at a student leadership retreat what appeared to be an exceptionally dramatic and revolutionary proposal.

Dr. Becker suggested that Student Government leaders strive to obtain a voice in educational policy makings of the college.

The idea must have been too insurgent for the government heads, because little was done about it, although each retiring Student Body President since that time has recommended such action.

Currently a big move is in progress on campuses across the United States. Some student groups are meeting with success, while others are finding it a tough grind, according to the American Council of Education.

It is no secret that several members of the Wartburg faculty are opposed to such an innovation. The same is true on other campuses. At the same time, investigators have found that for the most part faculty members have no real valid reason for opposing, other than the fact that most of those who did oppose were educators who stemmed from the German research-centered approach. This influence, still prevalent in many institutions today, lacks an emphasis on individual development.

Worthy of noting is the fact that early medieval universities were created and managed entirely by students. As permanent facilities and faculty tenure followed in later years, the pendulum swung completely to the other side, and the general atmosphere became one of faculty dominance.

Recently individual initiative by students has led to a cry for some influence in the planning of educational policies of colleges.

Composed of the dean of faculty, all the division heads, the registrar, librarian and two faculty members at large, the Wartburg Faculty Educational Policy Committee treats matters in the area of admissions, classifications of students, registration, student loans and curriculum requirements for graduation.

Practicability of having a student voice or voices on such a committee would go hand in hand with the goals and objectives of any educational institution.

For the college, as a community, can reach its objectives only if there is a growing sense of common goals and an opportunity and willingness on the part of both students and faculty to accept equal responsibility in achieving them.

When students can participate, their contributions become important. When students can contribute in some manner, total college community interest is maintained at a higher level.

When interest is maintained at a higher level, students and faculty will both benefit, as some colleges and universities which have already adopted the plan are finding out.

TRUMPET BOUND FOR RUSSIA

Wartburg Close To Khrushchev's Heart

By Wilbur Flachman

Wartburg was close to Soviet leader Nikita Khrushchev's heart, at least for a while, Wednesday, when the Russian Premier graciously accepted a copy of the TRUMPET from our delegation. After receiving the paper, he spread it briefly before him (decided he couldn't read it by himself) folded it up and tucked it inside his suit-coat.

Not without saying "thank you" though, and he added a short address in Russian for good measure, all of which went for naught since his interpreter had already seated himself in the delegation car.

Catch Nikita

We had finally caught up to the prominent world figure as he was preparing to leave the swine farm at Iowa State University, Ames, when all of this happened. Only minutes before we were part of the milling mob of several thousand that gathered at the Home Ec Building on the ISU campus, where Nikita made his first stop at Ames.

Then at the swine farm, we managed to get inside the guard lines and came face to face with the communist leader and the official delegation which included United States Ambassador Henry Cabot Lodge as they completed their tour.

Seven Go

The Wartburg group, which included this writer, SBP Norm Litzner, Romaine Foege, Larry Stummie, Jim Adix, Nolan Cramer and Joel Diemer, all seniors, was well armed with a variety of picture-taking equipment. Still shots were mostly in vain, however, as press photographers from all over the world monopolized the action.

Khrushchev was accepted warmly but not over-enthusiastically by the students at Iowa State. A reporter for the Lincoln (Nebr.) Journal who had been on the entire United States tour related that the greeting he got in Ames was the "warmest-ever" since the start of his American trek.

Cheering Loud

Russian papers, making the most of their propaganda methods, reported yesterday that Nikita was cheered loudly by the students. Actually Russian pressmen were encircling the crowd begging for people to wave and shout so that they could get a picture. They generated more enthusiasm than the earlier arrival of Khrushchev did.

Security guard was tight at all times. Secret service men took positions on roof-tops near-by, mounted with sub-machine guns. Careful observation showed several tiny mikes located strategically throughout the crowds along the tour route on the campus.

Knights Play Parsons Today

THE WARTBURG TRUMPET

Saturday, September 26, 1959, Waverly, Iowa

Wartburg Knights will face Parsons College of Fairfield here in Schield Stadium this afternoon as they seek their 10th consecutive win and their second win of the season.

Game time is scheduled at 1:30 p.m. for the first home game of the season.

Coach Norm Johansen reports that Parsons will have a much bigger team than Luther had and that the Kelly Greens will be using the single-wing offensive.

Simpson Breaks Thumb

The only serious injury for the Jomen the past week was a broken thumb by Howie Simpson. All others are expected to see action again today.

When asked about last week's 26-0 victory over Luther, Coach Johansen replied, "It was a team victory. Our timing this year is a lot better compared to the first game last year."

Coach Johansen stated that Dave Jensen, Bob Niemann and Phil Parker had played an outstanding game but repeated that it was still a team victory.

Coach Norm Johansen's men dominated play from the opening kickoff, scoring twice early in the first quarter and twice in the final period, in the game that was tabbed by experts as the most important of the Iowa Conference season.

Lineman Of The Week

Sophomore Bob Niemann from Charles City has been chosen as the Trumpet's first lineman of the week for 1959.

Niemann received three of the five possible votes, with Bob Mueller copping the other two.

Niemann's selection came after an outstanding performance as linebacker last Saturday, when he recovered three Luther fumbles in Wartburg's 26 to 0 win over the Norse.

Picking Up Splinters

By Jim Adix

Whoever figured this year's Iowa Conference football schedule would have been surprised and shocked, had he been able to foretell the future, at the inadvertent sin of placing the "ideal" game of the year in the lead-off position. After the cloud of dust (or mud?) lifted, the aspiring Norse of Luther had been soundly trounced by our own Jomen. What now?

Naturally, the general opinion of expert strategists from various campus outposts, such as the Den, North Hall or Alpha House, will turn to an idea that now we can sit back on our chairs and let the rest of the loop roll over and play dead at our feet. Instead of engaging in pep rallies, planning trips or speculating, we may expect some of our Monday quarterbacks to revert to drinking coffee, listening to that new juke box record or even planning a weekend of study. The reason? Human nature. People can't get excited over something they think is of secondary importance.

But they're wrong. The man called Joe College who isn't a conformist (creature becoming somewhat scarce) knows that EVERY game is an important one for the simple reason that being a favorite has certain perils. Every team experiencing a so-so season has as its primary goal the glory-filled duty of whipping the jerseys off the season's favorite. See the possibilities? Any team can be capable of rising to an occasion, especially if its opponents are afflicted with that bug which possesses a certain quality which causes coaches to get gray complacency.

This peculiar ailment can trace its ugly roots, not to the athletes, but to the student body — this means you and me, classmate! First signs are evident when such foolish remarks rear their ugly heads as "I'm staying home; it'll probably be a dull game anyway," or "Why should I freeze when we'll win so easily?"

But the best way to cure a problem is first to recognize it — then the solution comes more easily.

From here on, we can be pretty certain that every team in the league will be after our scalp; after all, there's glory in an upset. However, since we know and have witnessed what our men can do, and we also know that everyone else will be at his best for Wartburg, the conclusion is evident: This is going to be a whale of a season! So don't get too tired of the situation, mates, because we have a great football season ahead.

IM Pigskin Play Hits Full Stride

All intramural football teams swung into full action during the past week.

Grossmann III, Ketha-Cotta-Alpha and Clinton I won twice. Grossmann III's two wins plus last week's forfeit gives that team a 3-0 mark, best in the loop.

In two tight games last Saturday Clinton II nipped Clinton III 12-6, and Ketha-Cotta-Alpha got past North Hall 18-12 while Grossmann III rolled over Grossmann I 40-12. Grossmann III shut out Grossmann II 19-0, and Waverly blanked Vollmer House 28-0 in Monday's action.

In another close battle Thursday Ketha-Cotta-Alpha tripped Clinton III 6-0, but Clinton II trounced North Hall 32-6.

Runners To Host Platteville Sat.

Wartburg's cross-country runners will host Platteville, Wis., next Saturday, Oct. 3, at 4 p.m., in a three-mile race at the Waverly golf course. This will be the Knights' second race of the season.

As Bundgaard's men plan to reverse results after bowing to Grinnell last Saturday in the Wartburg season opener:

Cross-country scores are figured as follows: 1. A cross-country team consists of seven men. 2. First place scores 1 point, second place 2, third place 3, and so on. All men who finish the course are ranked and tallied in this manner.

The team score is determined by totaling the points scored by the first five men of each team to finish. The team scoring the smallest number of points is therefore the winner.
